Marriage Vows

TORONTO, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Archbishop Dwyer of Ottawa, a prime of the Church of England in Canada, said today that he did not think "the civil (marriage) ceremony should... replace the church ceremony." He was commenting on a statement made today by the Rt. Rev. Cyril P. Garbett, Archbishop of York, that it might be necessary to limit weddings to civil ceremonies.

"I DON'T THINK many people feel that everyone should have a civil ceremony," he said. "However, those who do not desire a church marriage should have the opportunity of a civil ceremony."

"I feel there should be a choice. The civil ceremony should not replace the church ceremony."

REV. J. R. MUTHOMER, secretary of the Board of Evangelism and social service of the United Church of Canada, said "civil marriage has proven of value in Canada, British Columbia and other provinces which have provided it. However, we are anxious that wherever a province sets up civil marriage that it take place before a judge or at least a county clerk," he added.

Weather

was recorded at Magrath, where 2 below was marked up.

TEMPERATURE VARIES

The capricious weather has played all sorts of tricks during the night with westerly winds at the south and 20 below readings at some points in the far north. Fairview, 240 miles northwest of Edmonton, was "basking" in 20 above over weather.

Snow fell all day Monday in Edmonton but it was very light and only totaled 3 of an inch. Cutting winds from the northwest made the cold more penetrating and the weather forecaster predicted "fresh winds" will continue.

Port St. John in the Northwest Territories had a reading of 16 below. Pouce Coupe and Denham Creek in northeast British Columbia both reported 20 to 22 below readings.

Weather forecast for the Edmonton district is "gradually clearing today with fresh winds and colder temperatures."

Maximum reading Monday was 10 and the minimum 10. The overnight low was 2 below zero, and at 2 p.m. the reading was 4 above.

Estimated high for today is 12 above zero.

Huge Japanese Holding Firms Being Dissolved

By RALPH TEATS-WORTH

TOKYO, Nov. 6.—(RUP)—The Japanese government today announced the dissolution of Japan's four largest holding companies.

The companies, which are Dai Nippon, Dai Kaisha, Dai Nippon Kaisha, and Dai Nippon Kaisha, are being dissolved as part of a government plan to break up the economic power of the Japanese.

Under the impetus of a mass meeting held last Friday night which was addressed by F. O. Parry, the unit chairman, said his last bond at 3 a.m. Saturday.

To Aubrey Griffin goes the credit for putting Red Deer over the top today.

He staggered into unit headquarters 15 minutes before midnight in an exhausted condition but with enough sales to put the city in the lead.

It was understood that the government will create a holding company liquidation organization to handle the liquidation of the companies.

Controller Demanded Minister Flies to Windsor Help Settlement Ford Strike

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell flew yesterday to Windsor, Ont., to make another attempt to settle the Ford Motor Company strike and after he left requests for a government controller to take charge of the plant.

Clarence Gillis (C.F.P., Cape Breton, N.S.), and Dave Breen (C.F.P., Toronto) were among those demanding appointment of a controller to bring the company and employees together for discussions before trouble could be averted.

9th Loan Sales Surge Upward in Rural Areas

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

Despite the extremely unfavorable travel conditions prevailing throughout rural Northern Alberta, the tempo of the Ninth Victory Loan campaign shows a decided upswing and nine units are now passing their objectives.

The similar number have passed the 80 per cent mark, and 12 are between 80 and 85 per cent of their quota.

Sales Monday in the rural districts totaled $45,300 from 1,254 subscribers. This compared with $24,800 on the same day of last week, when 1,058 subscriptions were received.

The cumulative total since the start of the campaign is $6,290,000 for 67.4 per cent of the $9,200,000 quota. This compares with $6,271,800 in the eighth loan, when 74.4 per cent of the quota was reached.

Seek Improved Transportation On 97th Street

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

Members of the Garment Workers' Union, through their delegate to the Trades and Labor Council Monday asked that action be taken to secure better transportation facilities for workers in the area.

The delegate, who is a member of the union, said that the union is interested in a considerable time waiting on street corners while loaded street cars wait for the workers to get on.

He said with the approach of winter the situation is a serious one for these workers, many of whom had to wait more than an hour to board a street car.

It was decided that a committee be appointed to study the situation and to make recommendations to the Trades and Labor Council.

The committee will be made up of representatives of the union and the Trades and Labor Council.

Ottawa Control

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

Worked out in the next few months, the premier said.

Provincial responsibilities had grown out of the range of their means of obtaining revenue, he said, and outlined the way in which the field of direct taxation had gradually been taken over by the Dominion over the period of two years, largely through an agreement which provided the provincial government with the province of about $100 million in certain tax fields.

Theoretically the province would be able to raise the revenue, but it was almost impossible for the provinces to improve taxes and collect them, he said, and the Dominion would have to take over the province of about $100 million in certain tax fields.

He outlined the federal government's proposal for the provinces to vacate the field of private and corporation tax and succession duties, to give up the present subsidies and receive in place of them a grant of $10 per capita on the basis of the 1941 census. In addition, the Dominion would assist in social services.

He said the present-day trend was toward centralization, but decentralization was vital to democratic control.

The Dominion grant would give the provinces $50,000,000 a year, he said, and would be paid in place of the present subsidies.

89 War Brides Leave Britain

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Alfred Barnes, minister of war transport, said today that 89 war brides of Canadian servicemen left for Canada in September and 19 in October. Of these, 19 were given priority as expert mothers.

He said that appeals have been made to husbands to do their share in the war effort, but that the number of women who joined the armed forces during the peak hours of the war had not been as great, and in consequence there was no room on the street cars to carry workers home.

Deaths Monday

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

TORONTO, Nov. 6.—Vera Moberly, executive secretary of the Infants Home here and an outstanding figure in child welfare work in Canada, after a brief illness, Miss Moberly died at her home at 1000 Bloor St. W. at 10:30 p.m. Monday.

Her husband, Frank Moberly, first engineer to survey for the Canadian Pacific Railway, died at his home at 1000 Bloor St. W. at 10:30 p.m. Monday.

BOGOTA, Colombia.—Dr. Laurence Macdonald, 78, Canadian foreign minister from 1918 to 1921, died at his home at 1000 Bloor St. W. at 10:30 p.m. Monday.

Campaign Ends

themselves to any party or politics either before or after nomination. This, says the leaflet, is true democracy.

In a court of law you must wait to tell the truth and the whole truth.

NOT WHOLE TRUTH
Now the Citizens' Committee do tell the truth when they are held a public meeting, but they don't tell the whole truth. Those attending the public meeting have no say in who the candidates will be.

These are named by a committee of 25 who do not even report back to their own Citizens' Committee.

That's not democracy. That's Tammany. That's the control of civic affairs by a minority.

Now the Civic Democratic Alliance have a truly democratic system of choosing candidates from a public meeting and these elections will be responsible to the electors through reports delivered by public representatives during the next election.

That's how Hamilton is, as far as it knows, a fine young man. But so far in the campaign he has dealt with only one side of the issue.

WRONG ATTITUDE
He's a cheerful accountant and if he thinks the mayor of Edmonton should be a chartered accountant, he's all wrong. All he thinks about is figures.

We have a city controller and a staff of accountants to whom we pay large salaries. We need men who check up on things at regular intervals.

We need other things at the city hall.

There is the case of the blind man who was refused a job on a street car with his trained dog and the city commissioners backed up the order. Yet lots of other things, fuzzy little dogs in their arms get on the street cars.

I am elected mayor that order will be rescinded.

MORE HUMANITY
There should be a little more humanity and consideration in our civic administration.

The Citizens' Committee candidates tell us a lot about all the money they have taken in during the last four years but after all it doesn't take much money to take in money when all the people have money.

I was an alderman for four years when things were a lot different, when many people were on relief and couldn't pay their taxes.

I tell you of the City of Edmonton face a real problem in the next two years.

The Citizens' Committee will have five men on the council and there are seven. We want the other five to be there with different views. Business men will not give consideration to the views of other classes.

HIGH LEVEL BUSES
I learn that two of the candidates who are so much about routing buses over the high level bridge actually voted for no council and my own voice was the only one raised against the proposal at the time.

There is not a single motorist who wants to drive over the bridge in this kind of weather. Besides it is a needless expenditure of money.

A change in the hours for city firemen is due to become effective in February. I want to see this go through.

There should be three shifts with three more people employed to return returning soldiers.

SERVE ALL CITIZENS
Now the weather may be bad on Wednesday, at least the Journal says it will be. But get out and vote no matter how the weather is. I promise you that if elected mayor, and I believe I will be, I will honestly try to serve all the citizens.

Ald. Anlay was asked the following question: In view of the fact that you and your colleagues have stressed humanity before, would you like to explain how you reconcile that policy with your strong opposition in regard to the five-cent street car fare for the benefit of the ordinary people and the statement in council made on Feb. 26, 1934 that you were determined the street railway should not operate at a loss?

Answer: That statement is absolutely false.

Question: I appeal to the chair. No one has a right to say that, I read the account in the Edmonton Journal, (laughter).

Answer: When the five-cent fare was passed we had a labor majority on council. Had I voted against it the measure would never have passed. It was Ald. Margaret Crang who moved the motion and when I saw it would not pass because of opposition I asked her to agree to a change and she did so. The tariff was then set at five tickets for 25 cents and it passed.

Question:—You are absolutely wrong.

Another member of the audience observed: The questioner said he read it in the Journal, but the paper has been misled by the Journal.

EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION
Question:—You have often said it is impossible to get an equitable distribution under the equalized system. Now you are saying you will get an equitable distribution in civic affairs. Now which is right?

Answer:—This gentleman has been following me around at every meeting. That question is a pretty hard one to answer. Many of these matters are national scope.

Ald. Winslow Hamilton, Citizens' Committee mayoralty. The Citizens' Committee has always run candidates who represent a cross-section of the population. Now we are taking some into our city hall, it does not control the city hall. All it does is nominate. The citizens do the electing.

With some of the criticism that has been offered I agree, but in 1942 the council laid down a policy of post-war reconstruction. That policy was to save as much as possible of capital expenditures for after the war. Street maintenance had to be curtailed, but as a result of the post-war policy the city of Edmonton has a plan involving the expenditure of some $20,000,000 derived from the profits of utilities, sale of lands and operating profits. From this fund the engineer will have six or seven million, utilities about two millions, street railway about three millions. It all adds up to the expenditure of about $20,000,000 in five years.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE
Now a word about the Citizens' Committee. Our opponents are going to fringe lengths to suggest that the Citizens' Committee is a sinister organization which controls the city. The effort is a frantic effort and has to be, because the change is a radical one.

Citizens' Committee candidates always have represented a cross section of the public of this city—labor, veterans, business and professional groups are all represented. And don't forget that candidates for office, whether they are picked in the Citizens' Committee or the Queen's Hotel or any other way, are elected to office by the voters, not by a handful of supporters.

Our opponents don't like other people to be elected to office, but they don't want to hear anyone else but themselves. They don't even like other people to be nominated without their blessing. That is the kind of democracy they believe in.

Our opponents don't like other people to be elected to office, but they don't want to hear anyone else but themselves. They don't even like other people to be nominated without their blessing. That is the kind of democracy they believe in.

STUES G. SMITH—"Punny, we just can't see that right. Better rehearse it a few more times!"

at the same time at the Memorial Hall meeting went unanswered by Mr. Hamilton because of the din.

Ronald L. M. Hart, Civic Democratic Alliance, school board: As a candidate for the school board, I am pledged—I want you to get that, pledged—to do something. We are being criticized for being piggy.

We are not going to continue with this pinching of pennies at the expense of our children's education, nor in their health and comfort.

I made a visit of inspection to our schools in the midst of the 30s. The standard I take as it is humanly possible for one person to think it is high time that you put some independence on the board. It is the independent is able to raise his voice about the consciousness of party or group and to test in the interests of the people. I urge you all to get out and vote on Wednesday.

J. H. King, Civic Democratic Alliance, alderman: The Civic Democratic Alliance will provide a real people's government at the city hall. We have a program that may take one, two or even five years to accomplish but it is at least a goal.

The Citizens' Committee have no program. They all blame the war for lack of action but they were in office long before the war. The war didn't hold up development of parks and playgrounds of schools and recreational areas.

FOLLOW RAINBOW
Ald. Gariepy has referred to the city council a resolution to launch out.

Every man and woman who is born into this world has a right, but the city fathers do not seem to know this. We must make a change. There is a commandment that says I give you eyes to lead the blind—lead but not bleed them. I am all for better things for our old people who have suffered and all they get is a pension usually too little for enough bread.

I tell you there needs to be a change and if elected I will work for the cause of equality to every man and woman regardless of race, religion or politics.

The Edmonton Bulletin has been very fair in its reports. It is a paper we all should read because we can learn something from it.

W. H. O'Neill, Independent, alderman: I would like to see the city go into a municipal housing scheme and to launch out.

rainbow party. I suggest the people will be wise on election day to follow the rainbow to find the pot of gold of civic affairs.

Question: Are you in favor of a city of providing utility service first for profits?

Answer: The needs of the people will be the first consideration. I think we can make our utilities operate at a profit.

Mrs. E. S. Haynes, Civic Democratic Alliance, school board: Across from the Journal is a church where there is a blood donor clinic.

Recently we all welcomed the Royal Edmonton Regiment. The regiment left many crosses in Africa, Italy and Western Europe. The mud-slinging started. And as before the mudslinging is starting in the building across from the blood donors' clinic.

OVERCROWDED SCHOOLS
I was with the university extension department and have experience in educational affairs. Our schools are badly overcrowded and children are graded below what they should be because of this. We need more schools.

Question: How would you know when to make a report to the citizens?

Answer: You could call a public meeting at any time and it would be glad to attend.

Rice Sheppard, Independent, alderman: If elected I shall be working in the true interests of all the citizens.

I want the best housing for the returned man and his family, a more beautiful city and a purer water supply with a more efficient car service with no increase in rates.

I am also for better streets and lighting with lowered costs for utility service and a reduction of traffic taxes.

HECKLING STARTS
—Heckling started in earnest at this stage, causing Mr. Sheppard to remark: "I'd like to clip that fellow in the back of the hat. After repeated interruption he finished by declaring he had served the city for 30 years, and never "gotten a dollar for it."

George Cleave, speaking on behalf of the Citizens' Committee, agreed with half of Brig. E. B. Wilson, OBE, E.D. Citizens' Committee, alderman: The brewers in the audience are certainly making this meeting anything but British far-park. They are a disgrace to the City of Edmonton.

I have known Ernie Wilson for a long time and he has distinguished himself as an important administrative post, with his army overseas. That is why he is here tonight. He has great ability that will be needed in the city council. He is a proven citizen and a proven soldier.

At this juncture the heckling became so loud and continuous that Mr. Cleave was unable to complete his address despite applause from the chairman.

Douglas Milner, Civic Democratic Alliance, school board: I am a trade unionist and have been since I was 19. One important point that seems to be lost sight of is consideration for our teachers.

Education is the foundation of society. We must develop along the line of trade unionists are fighting for. We should have better pensions for teachers. Present pensions are disgraceful.

In Alberta only 32 per cent of education costs go to administrators. It is 58 per cent that should change things in this province in this respect.

BY-LAWS REJECTED
F. J. Newton, Citizens' Committee, school board: My opponents have indicated that it took me two years on the board to learn. Unlike the Civic Democratic Alliance candidates who have visited three small schools I do not think I know much. You have heard promises of more and bigger schools, but I remind you that three building by-laws have already been turned down, for which reason the board had to form a reserve fund from which to carry on. I am in favor of the composite school idea unless it means a drastic cutting of the school budget, a physical training being now a compulsory subject. If so, the very or someone else, not the school board, should pay for them. Also I am in favor of advanced technical training at Victoria school.

J. C. MacDonald, Citizens' Committee, school board: I agree with

Mr. Lawrie that party politics has no place in civic affairs. That is why I am running under Citizens' Committee auspices. I am in favor of a complete revision of all by-laws on which I have an estimate of our requirements. While awaiting such finding I feel favorably to more smaller schools in the city.

It is my opinion that if cadet training had not been dropped from our schools there would have been fewer rejections of men trying to enlist in the forces. I am also strongly in favor of visual education—for example, the motion picture.

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Haynes, Civic Democratic Alliance, school board: The Civic Democratic Alliance is democratic in the truest sense. Nomination of candidates is taken from the floor of a public meeting. The sorry state of our schools, our roads, our transportation, are attributed to the war, but they were in a sorry state before the war and the Citizens' Committee had seen in office a long time even then.

SCHOOLS DISGRACE
Poor schools in the outlying sections of the city are a disgrace, and suggest discrimination against the children of poorer families. The Civic Democratic Alliance members of the school board, if elected, will see that first needs are dealt with first without discrimination. And we shall report accounts of our stewardship to you in a series; few but in general public meetings.

R. C. Gwynne, Citizens' Committee, alderman: When we think of some of the war veterans who are forced to court tuberculosis by living in ill-lighted, ill-ventilated basements, I say that God for such schemes as the Dawson Creek housing project. As to electric lighting the Calgary Power Company had to have power for war needs and the city of Edmonton was proud to be able to lend it.

But if Edmonton can supply downtown stores with power to light their show windows at 7½ cents per kilowatt, why can't the city supply power to the public? I consider a civic ambulance with an interior is an amount a service as far as I have found. It is not true that there are no war veterans on the Citizens' Committee slate. I am one, and there is another.

F. Armour Ford, Citizens' Committee, school board: School boards of other cities have three years should not be blamed for conditions that are due to shortages of men and materials, but a program must be initiated immediately to get buildings back into shape. A vast building program, and I cannot agree with those who say that schools of the city are time, for there is a construction controller at Ottawa who has to give permission to build even a shack, and he has already turned down several of the board's applications for building permits.

URGES SURVEY

Mrs. M. E. Butterworth, Citizens' Committee, school board; Panie and drawing of the purse strings gives way to depression; therefore now is the time for construction to give full employment. Relief jobs self-respect and initiative. Technical education needs a new break. Health needs attention. Juvenile delinquency is tied up with the use of leisure; therefore we must have better organized recreation. I am in favor of a survey to see where expansion or new buildings are needed.

S. T. Lawrie, independent, alderman: I feel that my experience on the city council board for this

The Bulletin's SPORTS SHOW by Hal Dean

EDMONTON'S junior hockey season which opens at the arena tonight with a game between Maple Leafs and South Side, is starting more than a month earlier than a year ago, when the schedule got under way on December 9, Canadians and EAC being the opposing teams.

Although practice hours have been at somewhat of a premium, the boys certainly should be in better condition than at the outset last year, when the clubs had roughly a week to prepare for last year's term which started in a flying start for the Leafs, Don Christian, now in hospital, being the only absentee from their punch line. Bud McPheerson, who was unable to take part in all games last winter, will be the third member of the first string tonight along with Mike Thomas and Jimmie King.

Joe Brown's South Siders have lost defenseman Dave Ellis, but Harvey Green is back. Ellis and forward Bill Stacey are both attending varsity and so are unable to play. And Don Robertson, center, is now in New Westminster. Joe will have several newcomers on display tonight.

Two other hockey leagues also push off here this week. Edmonton Flyers and Calgary Stampede are starting their Western Canada senior campaign tomorrow night and the Independent Top Flyers Thursday. IAC and Canadian Juniors also start Sunday.

HERE AND THERE . . . A LIBERTY'S Golden Bears, now in Vancouver for their two-game series with UBC Thunderbirds, planned to have a couple of birds, planned to have a couple of birds.

South Side vs Leafs City Junior Hockey League To Open at Arena Tonight

The City Junior Hockey League's 1945-46 season opens its doors tonight when South Side Athletic Club and Maple Leaf Athletic Club and Maple Leaf Athletic Club meet in the first game of the season at the arena commencing at 8:30 o'clock.

Both squads went through their final workouts at the arena last night and coaches Johnny Colville of the Maple Leafs and Joe Brown of the South Side announced their teams ready for action.

Both clubs have most of their lineups intact from last season and with a few additions should prove a tough opposition for the other teams in the league.

Maple Leafs will have Jack Smith in goal with John King, Red Iversen, George Harrison and Paul Smith on defense. The Maple Leafs are carried over from last season and will form the first string while the other two lines will consist of Delbert Wagner, Harvey Dodds and Jackson, and Joe Furness, Jack Kinsie and MacGraw. Dennis McManus, another good player, also on hand, but Don Christian, a member of last year's team is in hospital and will not be out for some time.

South Side has last year's notable players of last season's club, Dave Ellis and Jack Stacey, both of whom are attending varsity, but have most of the 1944-45 team intact and with a few new additions will Calgary's Co-Op Stampeders, at a meeting last night agreed to play a single playoff game with Winnipeg Blue Bombers for the western Canadian senior football championship next Saturday afternoon—but flatly rejected the first financial proposals placed before them by the Winnipeg club.

At the same time, President J. Grogan of Stampeders indicated the Saturday game at Winnipeg would definitely be a chance on the part of R. W. Hewison, secretary of the Canadian Rugby Union, asking for clarification of the status of western teams in a Grey Cup challenge each other for the Grey Cup.

While not mentioning the amount offered by Winnipeg to the Grey Cup for a single game in Winnipeg, Grogan declared it was "ridiculous."

"It would have covered less than half our expenses," he was asked to give a chance on the part of anything else. We promptly were asked to give a chance on the part of anything else. We promptly were asked to give a chance on the part of anything else.

Opening games this week were on October 3 and a total of 30 were played.

Alberta Gridders Arrive at Coast To End Season

Moose Bay Beats Commandos 5-2

REGINA, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Moose Bay Canucks chalked up their third win in a row in the southern Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League here last night with a 5-2 victory over Regina Commandos.

Canucks led all the way after Metro Prystay opened the scoring in the first period. Bud Olmstead and George Hatzfeldt made it 3-0 in the second stanza before Hugh Phillips assisted for the Commandos toward the end of that period. Bill Kluk got two more for Canucks in the third and Ray Gages called the second Regina goal.

Make Plans Send Scouts To Canada Numan Also Wins

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(Reuters)—Major British hockey organizations for the first time will send special representatives to Canada this winter to scout and negotiate for players in preparation for resumption of British league hockey play in 1946-47. It was reported Monday by Harold David of Wembley Stadium.

With few exceptions, pre-war British teams consisted mainly of Canadians who crossed the Atlantic without any agreement with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

But this season, David explained, representatives will work in close co-operation with the Canadian amateur governing body, signing players only with its permission.

The British Ice Hockey Association is most anxious to co-operate with the Canadian body by adding to the help they can be providing with players.

Before the war there was a seven team league in southern England, known as the Southern League. The teams were Wembley Lions, Wembley Monarchs, Wembley Hawks, Wembley Greys, Wembley Tigers. All are expected to resume a year from now.

British Soccer Players Planning Strike Nov. 17th

MANCHESTER, Nov. 6.—(CP)—A general strike of British football players is expected to be called Monday when the Football Union votes to go on strike after Nov. 17 if demands for higher wages were not met by the Football League.

Fifty-two of the country's 86 clubs are members of the Football League and several international meetings were present. Officials of the league and even football clubs were by ballot to strike and those from two opposed it.

Huddersfield Town players, one of the clubs opposing the strike, probably will go on strike after the meeting. The current transfer season, declared the current transfer season, declared the current transfer season.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(BUP)—Bob Waterfield was the wonder and the hope of the National Football League today. His team mates were wondering why Waterfield, tall, straight and handsome, wasn't in the movies.

The rest of the league was hoping that he soon would be. For as long as the former UCLA star quarterback, Cleveland Rams, 27, formation, the boys from the Lake Erie city are going to be a mighty tough outfit to beat. He proved that in the chili at the Polo Grounds Sunday when he scored nine points, directed the attack, passed and kicked the Rams to a 21-7 victory over the New York Giants.

As Cleveland remained tight in the western division lead, the emphasis was that Waterfield was the Rams. Yet, while he has the brown, he still doesn't look like the picture of a professional grinder.

GAFFLING PLAY
The guy is too pretty and graceful. His 191 pounds look on the wrong side and his footwork as he magicians the ball from under centre is something akin to ballet. It was there, legends have it, when he sent his backs rocketing into the right side of the line, and then walked ably unscathed and all alone around left end for the first touchdown against Giants.

Don't begin to get the idea that Robert is a sissy. He has plenty of the stuff known in athletic circles as intestinal fortitude and he hands out just as many lumps in the rugged play-for-pay circuit as he receives. What's more, he enjoys it.

"This is even more fun than college football," Waterfield said as he slipped up to reject his movie star wife, Jane Russell. "The fellows play harder and, whether you like it or not, have much more spirit along with added finesse. They hit harder and for keeps, which makes it all the more interesting."

Winfield, the sensational Canadian-born two-year-old by Buell, was a star in the National Football League last year when he was selected the better part of the racing season because of his explosive knees on his way to Oakland Park in Hot Springs, Ark. He'll be trained there, later in Florida, for the 1946 Kinsmen Plate by trainer Alexander J. Grogan. He'll also be defended by the Davis Cup, with Canada as one of the challenging countries, around the interest in Ottawa, home of Canadian champion Don McDonald and star junior Bob Davis. McDonald is still overseas, but Davis cup trials next spring.

MAKES 27 OF 20 KICKS
F College the brown-haired fellow with the classic profile never kicked extra points from placekicker. But backfield coach, who chided him in hand and Mr. Waterfield is doing very nicely. He made all three Sunday, which gives him a record of only three in 20 attempts.

His passing, meanwhile, set up all three Rams scores as he completed nine out of 16 for 147 yards. In addition he heaved a long one that was good for a 45-yard touchdown, only to have it nullified by a penalty.

These are the type of reasons why the rest of the league prefer that Bob stop risking his marvelous man on the gridiron and get into something like acting in the movies. But Bob is silent on his plans.

"I don't know yet whether I'll keep on playing or for how long," he explained. "It depends on what comes along."

Waterfield is now waiting for the opportunity has several hopes that it will make a speedy arrival.

Boxer Dies
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Arthur Walker, an 18-year-old negro boxer, died last night, medical examiner Edward Santora said, of injuries received in a boxing bout with another New York negro, 16-year-old Leroy Norton.

Norton was questioned by police but not held pending an autopsy.

Leswick, Brown Lead AHL Scorers

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Pete Leswick of Indianapolis Capitals pulled into a tie with team-mate Jerry Brown, during the past week for leadership in the American Hockey League scoring race.

Figures filed from league headquarters last night showed that Leswick added five assists and one goal to his total during the past seven days for 18 points, moving into third place behind Leswick in the Yankton Hawks at Hollywood Park October 6.

A half dozen scorers who have earned more are Whitlax, Esposito, Smith, Ben, Albin, Esposito, and Leswick.

And the next time Mayer sends his razor to the post, the grand daughter of Max O'Farrell probably will shoot up into fourth place if the razor is a fat one and his finish position the usual first.

At the moment, Leswick has a goal and an assist in five games and is out of competition. But even if she's laid out, competition the rest of the year, Leswick will wait with his hand on his chest, waiting back a question of what connection there is between

Earns $334,032 Busher is "Cinch" to Win Horse of the Year Honors

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(BUP)—Busher, the American race horse, has slightly different yardsticks in measuring a thoroughbred's greatness. In England, royalty and railroads alike consider the sport of the thing, don't you know old fellow. Not so in the United States, or at least among a very large segment of its turf followers.

Very often, the average American fan plunger looks first at the figures showing how much money the horse in question has won. Then he'll take a gander at his or her form on the race track.

There's no difference of opinion both the British and the American fan could arrive at the same happy conclusion, this season, when it comes to picking the "horse of the year."

Busher, a three-year-old filly, is in a class of her own in both the financial and form department. The swift-staggering daughter of War Admiral is a lead-pipe cinch for the horse of the year because of her 15 victories in 20 starts to date.

Her ability, moreover, movie magnate Louis B. Mayer—Busher's owner—is $24,000 and 32 dollars richer. Well, not exactly, because he has expenses and jockey fees to come out of that total. But that's what the filly has returned for her bed and board in the Mayor's stable.

NOT TRUE MEASURE
Some may argue that a horse's earnings are not a true measure of greatness. That Busher is lucky to be on the scene when purses are at their highest. But Busher has other things in her favor besides the dollar marks behind her name which have made her the new world's champion of her sex.

As of now, Busher racks seventh among the greatest money-winning horses in all time, moving into that position by her victory in the Yankton Hawks at Hollywood Park October 6.

A half dozen scorers who have earned more are Whitlax, Esposito, Smith, Ben, Albin, Esposito, and Leswick.

And the next time Mayer sends his razor to the post, the grand daughter of Max O'Farrell probably will shoot up into fourth place if the razor is a fat one and his finish position the usual first.

At the moment, Leswick has a goal and an assist in five games and is out of competition. But even if she's laid out, competition the rest of the year, Leswick will wait with his hand on his chest, waiting back a question of what connection there is between the money a horse wins and the form it shows — also whether Busher is lucky to be running in the golden era of sports and not in the years ago when the winner of the former money-winning game was Colonel Whitney's "Top Flight".

In 1931, the Whitney bred daughter of Disc Dog—Fifty-six swept through the two-year-old campaign and defeated. She hauled down $239,000 for seven victories.

WON FIVE OF SEVEN
Last season, the colts of Calumet Bradley, Busher's second owner, won five races. Three of them stakes. She was second and third in the other two. Her earnings were $60,000.

As a three-year-old, Top Flight started nine times, winning five stakes worth $50,000. And these victories came against horses of her own sex in such events as the Coaching Club and Arlington Oaks, the Acorn and the Alabama. On the four occasions she lost, Top Flight finished out of the money.

Busher, on the other hand, not only has beaten colts and older horses but also has given them a run for their money. She has won eight in the last six weeks. In the Washington Park Handicap, Busher probably ran the fastest 10 furlongs yet in the money column, well, she's young yet. Just give her another year or so.

ORFU Secretary Opposes Plan For Semi-Final

TORONTO, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Harold Bailey, secretary of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, came out in solid opposition to any proposal to have the Big Four champions meet the Western Canada title in a semi-final Grey cup game, which would meet the ORFU championship game.

"It's the bunk," he said. "We won't countenance the playing of a Grey cup semi-final in Toronto in opposition to our own ORFU playoffs in progress."

Canadian Rugby Union officials said Monday there are no developments in the plan to have the Big Four champions meet the Western Canada title in a semi-final Grey cup game, which would meet the ORFU championship game.

the money a horse wins and the form it shows — also whether Busher is lucky to be running in the golden era of sports and not in the years ago when the winner of the former money-winning game was Colonel Whitney's "Top Flight".

In 1931, the Whitney bred daughter of Disc Dog—Fifty-six swept through the two-year-old campaign and defeated. She hauled down $239,000 for seven victories.

WON FIVE OF SEVEN
Last season, the colts of Calumet Bradley, Busher's second owner, won five races. Three of them stakes. She was second and third in the other two. Her earnings were $60,000.

As a three-year-old, Top Flight started nine times, winning five stakes worth $50,000. And these victories came against horses of her own sex in such events as the Coaching Club and Arlington Oaks, the Acorn and the Alabama. On the four occasions she lost, Top Flight finished out of the money.

Busher, on the other hand, not only has beaten colts and older horses but also has given them a run for their money. She has won eight in the last six weeks. In the Washington Park Handicap, Busher probably ran the fastest 10 furlongs yet in the money column, well, she's young yet. Just give her another year or so.

The ROAD AHEAD

By Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

ONCE more Albertans have been asked to buy poppies to wear on Remembrance Day. It is a custom with which we became very familiar in the years between the wars. It is a good custom which merits the attention and support of everyone. It is a custom which has a far greater meaning than most people realize.

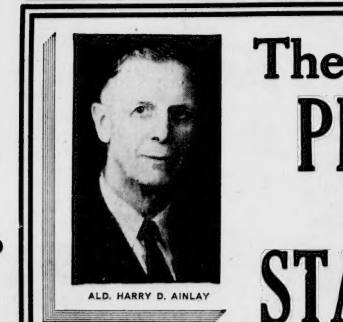

The Poppy campaign is arranged annually through the various branches of the Canadian Legion and its purpose is threefold. In the first place it is sponsored for the purpose of reminding people of the debt this country owes to those who died that others might live. In the second place the manufacture of the poppy is carried on by handicapped veterans and gives them something useful to do, and permits them to contribute to their own support. In the third place the proceeds of the sale of poppies are used to help needy veterans and those who require financial assistance.

The sale of poppies took place on Edmonton streets last Saturday. Every Canadian should consider it his solemn duty to buy a poppy and wear it on Remembrance Day, November 11. It is a small price to pay for the debt all those of us who are alive owe to those who died in the defence of Canada and our free and democratic way of life. When you wear that poppy you are paying a mark of respect to the 100,000 Canadians buried in foreign soil, or drifting in foreign seas.

When you pin that poppy on your lapel you will do yourself and Canada a great service if you will stop for a moment and think what it means. It is a vivid reminder that liberty is not achieved, or freedom enjoyed without cost. It is a reminder of the fact that the phrase "equality of sacrifice" is merely the product of selfishness.

When you pin that poppy on your lapel you may well stop for a moment to offer a silent prayer. A prayer of thanks for everything you have. A prayer of thanks for the opportunities which lie before you. A prayer for strength to make the most of those opportunities. When you pin that poppy on your Continued on Page Thirteen

ALD. HARRY D. AINLAY

The choice of Edmonton voters as they go to the polls tomorrow is clear. They will vote for a vigorous, progressive policy of greatly needed civic improvement with Alderman Harry D. Ainlay as Mayor—or for the continuance of the do-nothing policies of the past ten years. Edmonton needs a strong, experienced, progressive Mayor in 1946. Alderman Harry Ainlay has those qualifications.

Garnishee Act Claimed Unfair In Application

Alleging that the garnishee summons was being unfairly used in certain cases, delegates to the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council Monday night unanimously endorsed a resolution calling for an amendment to the Garnishee Act which would prohibit the issuance of a garnishee until the merits of the creditor's claim had been adjudicated by the courts.

The resolution, sponsored by Civic Union No. 30, will be forwarded to the Alberta Federation of Labor for submission to the provincial government. It will be included in a series of resolutions to come before the federation's annual meeting to be held at Calgary, Nov. 19.

FOR LABOR CODE
The resolution passed by the trades council for submission to the federation include one calling for the establishment of a committee to work out a labor code for the province which would establish the right of workers to a job, and draft a program for the immediate attainment of full and well-paid employment.

THE QUESTION
Do you think the lively interest being shown in the civic election will mean that there will be a larger percentage of voters coming to the polls than the 16 per cent who exercised their franchise last time?

THE ANSWERS
JOE MACKENZIE, department of veterans' affairs official: I think the renewed interest in the campaign to "get out the vote" put on by the Action Chamber of Commerce is bound to have some results, though I don't expect any startling increase.

ARTHUR MCCARTHY, truck driver: I only know that all my neighbors have said they're going to get out and vote—though I wouldn't venture any opinion as to what they will do when they mark their ballots. But there'll be more of them this time, you can be sure.

PETER CARLETON, clerk: The weather might have the effect of keeping some people beside the home fires, but I think most of them are going to vote one way or another. I don't remember when I've heard more talk about a civic election, but then I've only lived in Edmonton for four years.

increase in prices, it was felt. "The meeting agreed unanimously to fight this attempt in the near future," the executive of a few operators, with the co-operation of government officials, (to ram the code and regulations down their throats)," the executive member declared.

Beauty Parlor Association Is Formed Here

As an outgrowth of the proposed provincial code governing operation of beauty parlors and disallowing advertising of their prices and services, city beauty parlor personnel in greatest haste pooled their strength in the organization of a provincial association. It was formed Tuesday. Formation of the Alberta Beauty Parlor Association, which will be followed by similar organization in Calgary and Lethbridge, officials said.

Executive of the new organization consists of: Peter Phillips, Edmonton president; Mrs. Irma Sheldy, vice-president; Mrs. Irene Nelissen, secretary-treasurer. Executive members: Mrs. Mabel Coughlin and Mrs. Lila Staher.

Spokesmen for the organization said the association has a paid membership of 31 and that it is anticipated this number will be substantially increased in the next week.

A recent meeting held for the purpose of reviewing the proposed code, its regulations and objectives, was held Tuesday. The executive members, who were present, said that the code was little more than a suggestion, and that it would promote its stated objectives in the next few days. The code is expected to be declared of policy in the code act.

1. To induce co-operation between employers and employees.
2. To promote organization as a basis of co-operative action among trade groups.
3. To eliminate unfair competitive practices.
4. To improve the standard of labor.

The organization executive members said the meeting held Tuesday was the first of a series of meetings. They were interested in bringing about a condition whereby the aggressive type of beauty shop would be prevented from advertising prices, thus leaving the way open for exploitation of the public under the protection of a code.

REGRET EXPRESSED
"Regret was also expressed that the officials of the provincial government had not been able to see through this motive, and that instead of reviewing the intent with a certain view to the code, they were doing a great deal toward forcing the code and the proposed regulations on the beauty parlor industry in the province," said the executive members.

Women of the province were beauty conscious, members of the meeting agreed, and were not only entitled to know beforehand the prices of treatment and services but were desirous of having this privilege. With price advertising eliminated, as proposed in the code there would be a steady decline in the clientele with a necessarily resulting in-

Mr. Stoll has lived in Red Deer for nearly 40 years. Along with his distinguished war record of 1914, he has also served as mayor of Red Deer, president of its board of trade and vice-president of the Alberta Municipal Association for five years.

A charter member of the Red Deer Rotary club, he has served in the capacity of president and secretary of that organization. Professionally he is an optometrist and has been president of the Alberta Optometric Association for five years.

Three Panes Glass Reported Broken

Three panes of glass, a set of keys and some tools were missing from the 100 street avenue yard of the Puleo Construction Company, following an alleged break-in during the last week-end, according to city police. Entry was believed made after a panel in the front door had been smashed. Police believe the offence was committed by youths.

Arrives Home

Maj. J. C. Turgeon, officer commanding the 2nd Canadian Army, has arrived home in Edmonton on Saturday. His home is at 9005 113 avenue.

The setting up of a department of labor with a labor minister to deal with all labor matters.

Wanted: 40-Hour Week

The resolution calling for the establishment of a 40-hour or less work week with wage rates established on the basis of increased wage levels of take-home pay with substantially higher rates per hour for males and females; two weeks' holidays with pay; full compensation for all workers injured during employment, and an amendment to the present laws for the purpose of meeting the present needs for stabilized union and labor management relations.

Another resolution called for the setting of the old age pension at 60 years and called for payment of 500 monthly. The resolution also asked that widows and unemployed be granted similar pensions.

The trades body endorsed also resolution calling on the provincial government to include labor advisers from the Alberta Federation of Labor to sit in on the Dominion-provincial conferences.

Also endorsed was a resolution calling for the placing of municipal and civic services under the Factories Act, and one asking the government to institute at the University of Alberta short courses for the education of labor leaders.

First Presbyterian Church Here Marks 64th Anniversary with Dinner

The First Presbyterian church of Edmonton celebrated its 64th anniversary Monday night, with a congregational dinner and a welcome home to members of the armed services.

About 450 persons attended, approximately 200 of whom were service men and women.

After dinner, the meeting was opened with an address by the chairman, J. F. Lymburn, K.C., who welcomed and thanked members of the armed forces for service overseas. He also thanked wives of the men who had gone overseas for having to suffer so many years of separation.

Mr. Lymburn asked those men and women who were prepared to die for their freedom of religion if they would now try very hard to live for that same freedom and use it.

WEST PIONEERS
He spoke of the Presbyterians being pioneers of religion in the west and introduced to the gathering Mrs. D. G. McQueen, whose husband was the first moderator of the presbytery in Edmonton, and who for 42 years until the time of his death in 1900, spent his full time in working for the church in the west.

A reply to the chairman's thanks and welcome was given by H. A. Dyde. Mr. Dyde spoke on the different branches of the service. The navy, he stated, did great work, especially along the lines of convoy duty, for which it received very little publicity. People could never realize just what a large-scale job was undertaken by the men of the senior service.

He declared there were two great unsolved problems in the Canadian Army. One was that the army never was able to properly allocate men and he believed that a lot of skilled men's talents were wasted during the war by having them do jobs with standards below their capabilities. He also pointed out that in some cases a man's capabilities had been greatly overestimated.

The second problem was how to reduce the number of men needed behind the lines so that they could be used in the front line trenches. He said that some new system should be found under which it would not be necessary for so many men to keep one man at the front.

WITH AIR FORCE
Having served one and one-half years as a civilian working with the air force, Col. Dyde said he believed this branch of the service had perhaps captured the heart of people more than any other, possibly because it is the most fascinating of all.

Services which at first officials were skeptical about forming, were the women's branches, he declared. He added that since establishment they have done a great deal more than just prove their usefulness, and in many cases women have proved themselves more efficient at various jobs in the services than men.

He finished by thanking and congratulating civilians for great contributions in many different ways toward bringing about a successful conclusion to many years of strife. After the address those present were asked to adjourn to the social room, where an evening of entertainment was presented. A sing song by Thomas Fyfe and solo by Mrs. L. McKechnie and Mrs. H. Currie were featured.

Preparations for a dinner were supervised by Mr. G. D. Lockertie and the affair was sponsored by the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid and Auxiliaries.

Trades Council To Honor Memory Of Paddy Griffin

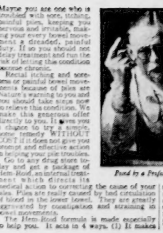

Members of the Trades and Labor Council will make a pilgrimage next Sunday to lay a wreath on the grave of W. "Paddy" Griffin, well-known labor organizer and social worker, who died about 12 months ago.

Motion to pay tribute to his memory was passed at a meeting of the Trades Council held last month. Members of the council will meet at the Labor hall at 2:15 p.m. Sunday, and will proceed to the Edmonton cemetery from there.

Members also paid tribute to John Laidstone, oldest member of the Carpenters and Joiners' Union, No. 1235, who died Sunday in a city hospital after a long illness.

Two More Vendors' Stores Are Sought

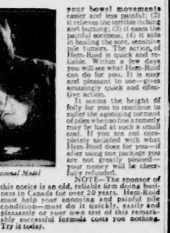

The Edmonton Trades and Labor Council Monday night decided to request the Alberta Liquor Control Board to establish two additional liquor stores in Edmonton north of the river.

Carl E. Berg, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said the Provincial government was in the liquor business for profit and should provide decent facilities to those desirous of making purchases.

He said that the facilities at the North Side Liquor store were quite inadequate. Daily, he said, a line-up of a block long, and sometimes four deep, gathered outside the store, and conditions inside the store were such as would not be tolerated by the government if the business was operated under private control.

Good Advice to Those WHO SUFFER WITH PILES

Pain in a Pile!

Preserve the sweet taste of Victory!

When the bugles blow and the flags fly, when the bands play and the crowds cheer... VICTORY IS SWEET!
When the throng gathers at the railway stop, and the soldiers march off to the train, and tears and laughter all run together... VICTORY IS SWEET!
We had a war before... and we won... and Victory was sweet. Later, Victory tasted bitter in its breeding. Victory looked strange selling shoe leeches.
Now we've had another war, another sweat. Victory, THIS TIME we'll keep it sweet... this time we'll work together... as we learn to in war. This time we'll pool our savings, draw upon our salaries... AND BUY BONDS. Buy bonds to equip our soldiers for peacetime living. Buy bonds to build a back-log against lean years; to curb inflation and in scouring aftermaths of unemployment and depression. THIS TIME we'll dig deep to buy bonds... to keep our future sound... to KEEP OUR VICTORY SWEET.
